Franklin Runge, State Law Librarian

406-444-1979 (direct) | 406-444-3660 (main line)

The mission of the State Law Library of Montana is to provide legal information and resources, to enhance knowledge of the law and court system, and to facilitate equal access to justice.

Individuals who attend this will learn about (1) the services offered by the Law Library, (2) how to understand and categorize a legal issue in relation to the three branches of government, (3) how to comprehend and contextualize the Montana Code Annotated, and (4) what access to justice (presently) looks like for Montana's citizenry.

It is hard to get Montana's citizenry excited about their legal problems. That said, we play a role when people are having their worst days. Please consider including a brief explanation of the State Law Library when training your staff.

When it comes to legal research, your staff's and your patron's suffering is optional.

If you are spending more than 10 minutes looking for legal information, and you are drawing a blank, contact the Law Library. Your time is valuable, and we are legal information experts. We try to engage, education, and empower citizens through our services, which include being open to the public (8-5), computer stations, document delivery, reference, interlibrary loan, training sessions (individual or group), legislative histories, and free access to expensive legal databases.

We have partnered with Court Help Program and the Access to Justice Commission.
The Court Help Program has locations throughout Montana.
